

Feed & Energize our world.

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION

The Department of Agronomy and Horticulture at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln hereby confers a Certificate of Plant Breeding and Genetics upon:

Learners who have earned the certificate in plant breeding will have demonstrated a competency in the science that is the foundation of Plant Breeding and Genetics and the technical application of this science to design, breed and improve plants for food, fiber, fuel and fun.

The bearer of this professional certificate has completed 12 professional hours in basic plant breeding and genetic applications:

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska
Lincoln

February 1, 2017

Certificate Granted

Roch Gaussoin

Dr. Roch Gaussoin, Department Head