

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska
Lincoln

Feed &
Energize our world.

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION

The Department of Agronomy and Horticulture at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln hereby confers a Certificate of Plant Breeding and Genetics upon:

Arthur Young

Learners who have earned the certificate in plant breeding will have demonstrated a competency in the science that is the foundation of Plant Breeding and Genetics and the technical application of this science to design, breed and improve plants for food, fiber, fuel and fun.

The bearer of this professional certificate has completed 13 professional hours in plant breeding and genetic applications:

Crop Genetics Engineering
Crop & Weed Genetics
Self-Pollinated Crop Breeding
Germplasm & Genes
Cross-Pollinated Crop Breeding

Heterosis
Haploids & Double Haploids
Disease Resistance Brdg.: Oomycete
Genotype by Environment Interaction
Plant Pathology

Nov. 2, 2017
Date Granted

By Dr. Richard Ferguson
Interim Department Head